More Discussion Over the Seaboard Southern Litigation.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DURHAM, N. C., March 11.—The dominant matter of interest here and the subject of the most talk is still talk of the railroad suit mentioned in this correspondence yesterday, in which the city is suing for its rights to Penbody Street, of which It and the Seaboard Air Line by grant of the city, are now in posses sion, though Judge Winston, of the State sion, though Judge Winston, of the State Courts, and Judge Purnell, of the United States Court, have decided that the property belongs to the Southern Rallway under lis lease of the North Carolina Rallecaid, the original owners by grant sixty years ago. It appears that while do Jire the city has lost upon decisions up to date, that de facto she is still in possession; that under the understanding with the Seaboard it would be held harm-less in these suits, the road has kept its promise, and has paid some seven or eight thousand dollars to date in this littgation, and have given a ample bond

There was a small sensation at the courthouse yesterday evenng, where scraps are unusual, when three fist fights occurred in the building inside of half an hour. The first was pulled off when Deputy Sheriff John F. Harwood slapped under a table Lawyer S. M. Holton f. the county treasurer's office. A little while afterwards Townsship Constable E. T. Lee and Holton had a row in the commissioner's room, in which Holton hit the floor three times. At this juncture Sergeant of Police W. B. Crabtree appeared on the scene and, according 'o the statement of Clerk C. B. Green made "a regular cyclone" till Deputy Sheriff Harwood came and got them apart. While acting as peace-maker, Clerk Green had his hut badly damaged: Such things are rare here and the more regretted.

CHARLOTTE VICTIMS OF A PENNY HOAX

Report That Washington Store Would Pay 18 Cents for Pennies of 1902 Issue.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 11 .- An advertisement in a newspaper recently stated that a Washington clothing store would pay '18 cents for 1902" pennies. Because of this advertisement practically all the 1902 pennies in the Piedmont section of North Carolina and in half a dozen towns in South Carolina have come into the hands of speculators. Several weeks ago it was rumored that in coining the pennics of 1902 a large amount of gold had been accidentally spilled into the molten copper and that the government wished to recall trinsic value. Three men collected every 1902 penny to be found in the banks and stores in Charlotte and sent agents out of town to assist in collecting pennies. On March 8, 1902, pennies were freely purchased here for 3 cents cach; on the 5th they had brought 5 cents, and on the next day Edward B. Gresham, of the firm Gresham & Co., sold to Baggage Agent Bonner, of the Southern, 330 1002 pennies for $33. Bonner stated that the next day he sold the same pennies to a bank in Alexandria. Va., for 15 cents aplece.

the same pennies to a bank in Alexandria, Va., for 15 cents apiece.

The report of this transaction was brought here and spread to neighboring towns, and for the last four or five days the coveted pennies havenever been sold for less than 8 cents and have frequently changed hands at 10 and 12 cents. Gresham and other purchasers sent by baggage agents over 6,000 pennies to Washington to be redeemed at the 18-cent valuation.

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 11.—The bodies of J. A. McArthur, of Gaffney, S. C., and W. E. Neal, of Rural Hall, N. C., reached Greensboro on the Southern train last night, being carried home for burial. Mr. MoArthur was the passenger, and Mr. Neal the car inspector, who were killed in the train wreck at Danville yester-

of the Southern, who upon the commencer ment of his term during the sessions of the railroad, did not have much of inthe railroad, did not have much of in-terim between leaving off one duty and resuming the other. He arrived home from the adjournment of the sixty-day session of the Legislature Monday night, and yesterday morning was called out of bed at 4:30 o'clock and took a special train at once for the scene of the dis-aster at Danville.

A year ago the store of Morris Brothers, in South Greensboro, was ransacked by burglars, but nothing of value apparently stolen. Last night burglars again entered the store, and effected an entrance in their safe, but found no money, it having been deposited in bank.

A burglar in the country, near Jamestown, had better luck Monday night. The residence of Mr. L. M. Gardner was entered, and fifty dollars in gold and twenty-live in bills stolen.

For some time some reckless person has been damaging the young shade trees planted in various portions of the city, especially along Summit Avenue, leading to Proximity Mills. Yesterday, a street car conductor saw a half drunk man breaking off limbs from the trees and having great fun, although a companion tried to prevent him. The Mayor only fined him $3$ and costs.

MERCHANTS CLUB.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club last night, Mr. G. O. Coble was elected a member of the board to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. W. T. The sum of $2$ was voted for books to be presented to the Public Library, and a committee, consisting of Messrs. A. V. D. Smith, C. G. Wright and R. D. Douglas, was appointed to select the books.

The Joseph J. Stone Printing Company, of Greensbore, with a capital of $100,000, was incorporated by the Secretary of State yesterday. The company is authorized to do printing, binding, engraving, lithographing, etc.

Hiss Mary Goolsby, a former very popular resident of Greensbore, was married Monday at Haisy, Ky., to Dr. J. C. Shiner, a leading physician there.

to take into consideration various pro-posed matters of industrial and public posed matters of industrial and public concern to the city and county. The utmost harmony prevailed, and conclusions reached were after mature and informal deliberation. Among other matters which were cordaily endorsed and approved were the proposed music carrival and State music teachers' convention, to be held here in May, and the proposed $300,000 bond issue for good roads, the election for which is to be held May 12th. The bill passed by the Legislature provides for the expenditure of $50,000 per year for six years, under ham and other purchasers sent by bagpromise, and has paid some seven or eight thousand dollars to date in this illigation, and have given an ample bond to protect the city from ever having to pay a cent.

Though the city is anxious for a union depot, and there is much criticism of the aldormen for their hereofore tax way of dealing with the Seaboard, it is evident on all hands that the sympathies of the people are largey in favor of this road, and that it would be a breach of good faith not to comply with their promise, as the road and done to them.
It is also evident that this litigation is huriful to all the roads and the progress of the city, if public expression be a trars and judges of election, were careful to select representative men, regardless of politics, to all their positions. The fine organizing capacity of Messrs. Douglas and Scales, together with their splendid reputation of devotion to the interest and advancement of Guilford county, will have a marked effect towards the recovered species of the recovered species.

A marked tribute to the excellence of the bond issue bill, adopted for Guliford, comes from the fact that after its adoption by the Legislature four other counties had exactly similar bills passed.
